

Week in Review and Lookahead

Friday, December 2, 2022

With the successful completion of our work on C Branch Accessibility Improvements, the Green Line's construction season has come to an end. As we move into winter, the GLT team is continuing to advance our projects in design. Stay tuned for updates on projects that will begin construction in 2023.

Newton Highlands Station Accessibility Improvements

- ✓ This Week | This week, the GLT team presented the final design for the Newton Highlands Station Accessibility Improvements project to the Newton Historical Commission. This followed our discussions with local officials and stakeholders, including the mayor's office and the Newton Committee on Disability. We thank everyone who has taken the time to support or provide their input on these important improvements to accessibility on the Green Line
- Lookahead | With the project design finalized, the GLT team plans to advertise the project for construction in early 2023, with work expected to kick off later in the year
