

Week in Review and Lookahead

Friday, January 20, 2023

With the first few weeks of 2023 already behind us, the Capital Transformation team is happy to resume our weekly reports to provide the latest updates on our work. Over the holidays we continued advancing our projects in construction and developed new designs to improve our system. In 2023 we'll be kicking off important new projects and completing upgrades to enhance reliability and accessibility across the MBTA, which will help deliver the level of service our riders deserve
